Examiner's Amendment

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

2. Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Applicants' Representative, Leonard P. Diana (Reg. No. 29,296), on September 28, 2006.

3. The application has been amended as follow:

In the claims:

4. Claims 1-3 and 5-7 are amended as following:

~~Claim 1~~ 1. (currently amended): A data processing method for providing data to a ~~terminal~~ client from a server via a network, the method comprising:

an issuing step for issuing a request for data loading from ~~the terminal~~ said client to the server in response to an instruction by a user;

a completion discrimination step of the server discriminating, in response to the request for data loading, whether a generation of requested data has completed or is in progress;

a first transmission step of transmitting from the server to ~~the terminal~~ said client the requested data if the generation thereof has completed; a prediction step of the server predicting an end time of the generation of the requested data if the generation thereof is in progress;

Art Unit: 2155

a second transmission step of transmitting the predicted end time and information for requesting data loading again at the predicted end time from the server to ~~the terminal~~ said client if the generation of the requested data is in progress;

a display step of the client displaying the requested data or the predicted end time received from the server; and a re-issuing step of, in a case where ~~the~~ a received data includes the information for re-issuing the request for data loading at the predicted end time, re-issuing the request for data loading from ~~the terminal~~ said client to the server without a further instruction by the user when the predicted end time is reached.

~~Claim 2~~ 2. (currently amended): A The data processing method according to claim 1, wherein said prediction step predicts includes predicting the end time based on an amount of data to be generated.

~~Claim 3~~ 3. (currently amended): A The data processing method according to claim 1, wherein the requested data is generated by execution of a predetermined process, and said prediction step predicts includes predicting the end time based on a time required for executing the predetermined process.

Art Unit: 2155

~~Claim 5~~ 5 (currently amended): A data processing system comprising a server and a client, and in which said server provides data to said client via a network, wherein said server comprises:

first reception means for receiving a request for data loading from ~~the terminal~~ said client; completion discrimination means for discriminating, in response to the request for data loading, whether a generation of requested data has completed or is in progress;

first transmission means for transmitting to ~~the terminal~~ said client the requested data if the generation thereof has completed; a prediction means for predicting an end time of the generation of the requested data if the generation thereof is in progress; and second transmission means for transmitting the predicted end time and information for requesting data loading again at the predicted end time to ~~the terminal~~ said client if the generation of the requested data is in progress, and wherein said client comprises:

issuing means for issuing the request for data loading to the server in response to an instruction by a user;

second reception means for receiving from the server either requested data or the predicted end time together with ~~the~~ information for re-issuing the request for data loading at the predicted end time; and control means for, in a case where ~~the~~ a received data includes the information for re-issuing the request for data loading at the predicted end time, controlling said issuing means as to re-issue the request for data loading from ~~the terminal~~ said client to the server without a further instruction by the user when the predicted end time is reached.

~~Claim 6~~ 6. (currently amended): A The data processing apparatus system according to claim 5, wherein said prediction means predicts the end time based on an amount of data to be generated.

Claim 7 (currently amended): A The data processing system according to claim 5, wherein the requested data is generated by execution of a predetermined process, and said prediction means predicts the end time based on a time required for executing the predetermined process.

Reasons for Allowance

5. Claims 1-3 and 5-7 are allowed.

6. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The examiner has found that the prior art of record does no appear to teach or suggest or render obvious the claimed limitations in combination with the specific added limitations as recited in independent claims 1 and 5 and subsequent dependent claims

Art Unit: 2155

2-3 and 6-7. The prior art of record fails to teach or suggest a method and system for providing data to a client from a server via a network wherein the server discriminates a request for data loading received from the client, whether a generation of requested data has completed or is in progress; if the generation of the requested data is completed, the server transmits the requested data; if the generation of the requested data is in process, the server predicts an end time of the generation of the requested data and sends the predicted end time and information for requesting data loading again if the generation of the requested data is in progress; re-issuing, when a received data includes the information for re-issuing the request for data loading at the predicted end time, re-issuing the request for data loading from the client to the server without a further instruction by the user when the predicted end time is reached (see communication dated September 25, 2006 and specification page 9, line 7-page 10, line 5).

7. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
